Study Questions February 7

Any Who Seek

Read Jeremiah 29:13

When we seek Him what will we find?

God wants to be found I love this thought!

How are we to seek Him?

This thought challenges me. I do many things with all my heart. I am competitive at games. I put everything into mothering my children, caring for our home, and serving in ministry. Jeremiah 29:13 forges a challenging question: do I seek God with the same vigor and determination in which I seek other things in my life?

What do you seek with all your heart?

Several years ago, in an attempt to change the direction of my unhappy, happily-ever-after, I began to spend time seeking God. Reflecting back makes me chuckle, almost out loud. You see, I had no idea how to seek God nor what it meant. What I did know, was that I was miserable and had tried other things with all my heart with a zero return on my investment.

I begin to pray a simple prayer, "Lord help me love you" and then added, "Satisfy me in the morning with your unfailing love that I might sing for joy and be glad all my days." (Psalm 90:14) Do you know what He did? He answered me.

Read Hebrews 11:6.

What does God do for those who earnestly seek Him?

The blessings for those who are willing to be an any are too abundant to count. What if everyone would decide to be an anyone? Marvel at the prospect of change such a decision would have and the sight God, our Creator would see when He looked down.
